Legislator Anker Supporting our Local History

Legislator Sarah Anker joined by volunteers of the Rocky Point Historical Society.

Rocky Point, NY- On Saturday, May 30th Suffolk County Legislator Sarah Anker joined the Rocky Point Historical Society for their annual yard sale which supports the organizations oldest home currently standing in Rocky Point, the Noah Hallock House.

Home to seven generations of the Hallock Family, the house is presently maintained by the Rocky Point Historical Society and serves as a museum for visitors to view clothing, farming tools, artifacts from the Hallock family, and discover the historical value of Rocky Point.

“The Hallock House is a rare piece of history that has maintained its original character and charm,” said Legislator Anker. “Through the Rocky Point Historical Society’s tireless efforts, the home has provided an opportunity for our community to learn about our local history.”
